Docket No. 9386

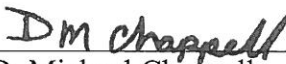

ORDER GRANTING JOINT MOTION FOR EXTENSION OF TIME

On March 13, 2020, pursuant to Rule 3.22 of the Federal Trade Commission (“FTC”) Rules of Practice, FTC Complaint Counsel and Respondent RagingWire Data Centers, Inc. (“Respondent”) filed a Joint Expedited Motion for Extension (“Joint Motion”). The parties jointly request a one-week extension of the deadline, set forth in the Scheduling Order issued in this case, for issuing subpoenas duces tecum to nonparties from March 13, 2020 to March 20, 2020. The parties recite that the extension is necessary to accommodate discovery delays and other issues and that the extension will not impact any other discovery deadlines.

Pursuant to Rule 3.21(c)(2), the Administrative Law Judge may grant a motion to extend any deadline or time specified in the Scheduling Order, other than the date of the evidentiary hearing, upon a showing of good cause. 16 C.F.R. § 3.21(c)(2). In determining whether to grant the motion, the Administrative Law Judge shall consider, inter alia, any extensions already granted, and the need to conclude the evidentiary hearing and render an initial decision in a timely manner. Id. Based on the representations in the Joint Motion, the parties have demonstrated good cause for the requested extension. Moreover, this is the parties’ first request to extend a Scheduling Order deadline, and the requested extension will not adversely impact the ability to conclude the evidentiary hearing or to render an initial decision in a timely manner.

Accordingly, the Joint Motion is GRANTED, and it is hereby ORDERED that the deadline under the Scheduling Order for issuing subpoenas duces tecum to nonparties is extended to March 20, 2020.
