

ATTACHMENT F
Consumer Notice

Subject: Claim Your Refund from Harris Jewelry/CACUSA

Because of a recent settlement with the Federal Trade Commission and a group of State Attorneys General,* you are eligible for a refund from Harris Jewelry.

Records show that you paid for a Lifetime Jewelry and Watch Protection Plan. You can get a full refund of the amount you paid for that plan. Additionally, if you currently have an outstanding debt to Harris/CACUSA, you don't have to make any more payments. Your account balance is now $0.

Don't wait, apply for your refund now. Visit [easily typed URL], click "Apply for a Refund," and enter your name and contact information.

Harris Jewelry will be closing down soon and is no longer accepting requests for jewelry repair, battery replacement, and other services covered by the Protection Plan.

If you have questions, please call Harris Jewelry at 1-800-989-7732, Monday through Friday from 9:00am – 5:30pm EST or email info@harrisjewelry.com.

To learn more about the settlement, read the Federal Trade Commission's press release [embedded link] or call the New York State Attorney General's Office at (315) 523-6080.

* The Attorneys General of the states of California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Maryland, Nevada, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Washington, and the Hawaii Office of Consumer Protection ("State Attorneys General").